Prepare Today for unexpected emergencies!

The U.S. Department of Education's Office of Safe and Drug-Free Schools (OSDFS) encourages schools to consider emergency management in the context of its four phases: mitigation/prevention, preparedness, response and recovery. One activity suggested by OSDFS for enhancing school preparedness is the creation of a portable collection of essential emergency supplies, or “Go Kits.”

The Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency (PEMA) also suggests that classrooms have “Go Kits” that are easily transportable and provide the teacher with needed emergency supplies.

A Great Project for PTA/PTO groups and community service organizations such as Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions' Clubs.
